I do not maintain my calendar. 4 night minimum.

This listing is for a remodeled 3 bedroom, 2 bath full-ground-floor flat in the North Beach / Telegraph Hill neighborhood. This is the historic area that you want to stay during your San Francisco holiday. When you see commercials, movies or television shows that feature San Francisco - this is the neighborhood.

The entire 1909 Edwardian building has just been remodeled, including upgraded plumbing and electrical. The unit has beautiful views of San Francisco Bay, the Embarcadero and the Bay Bridge. The building is located near Coit Tower and the Barbary Coast Trail. The building has been featured on the 'Streets of San Francisco' and this part of the street has been in several films such as 'Basic Instinct' and 'The Hulk'. World famous artists and photographers such as Demetrio Carrasco and Jan Halaska have featured this portion of Montgomery street in their works. This a sweet location for both leisure and business travelers.

The property features modern and comfortable conveniences, with professionals and business travelers in mind. Although the property is newly remodeled, I have maintained the historic high ceilings, hardwood floors and classic Edwardian facade. The two main bedrooms will have new hotel quality mattresses, linens and bath towels. The newly remodeled kitchen features stainless steel appliances and is stocked with utensils and cookware for six adults. The third bedroom is small and is furnished a twin bed and a small desk.

The flat also includes: in-unit washer and dryer, high-speed internet (available through a secured WI-FI network, cable television.

Master Bedroom:
King Bed - Simmons Black Collection
40' Flat Screen TV
En-Suite Bathroom with Shower
Partial Bay Views

Bedroom 2:
Queen Bed - Simmons Black Collection
Partial Bay Views

Bedroom 3:
1 Twin Bed

Although this is a ground floor unit, it is located on a hill so access for wheelchairs and strollers could be tricky. No parking is offered with the unit and I don't recommend travelers rent autos during their stay here since San Francisco is a difficult place to find parking. In any case, the property has a Walkscore rating of 97/100 so a car is quite unnecessary.

This is my private unit, so it is not designed to be a boarding house or hostel. I am looking for responsible people that will take good care of the place. For reservation or property information, please call me.

O ponto forte do apartamento é a localização. Ele fica próximo a uma série de bons restaurantes, além de estar a uma curta distância do coração da cidade e da área do Embarcadero. Permaneci um mês no apartamento com minha família com conforto, ele está equipado para atender quaisquer necessidades de rotina. O proprietário, sr. Richard Woon, é muito amável e disposto a resolver quaisquer problemas que apareçam. Recomendo!

We couldnt pick a better place to stay in San Francisco. The place was very roomy and cozy. Everything was clean and we felt extremely comfortable. Location was excellent! Close to China Town to Fisherman's Wharf. The host was great as well!

Wonderful central location: we walked every where and had easy access to public transportation. Good restaurants nearby in North Beach and the Wharf area. Lovely home with comfortable space for all 5 of us. Modern kitchen and open common area for cooking and eating together. Owners were easy to deal with and available for questions. Great view of Bay Bridge. Thank you for a lovely vacation.

We spent a week in the apt. Very nice place, very good location. Richard (owner) was helpful and attentive. If we had it to do over we wouldn't change a thing. We highly recommend this place to anyone headed to SF for a city vacation.

Perfect Base to See San Francisco

Guest ddoolf (Sydney, Australia)

Date of stay 12/30/12 Review Submitted 02/04/13

We stayed here for 5 nights with a family of 5 (children 9, 13 and 15). The apartment is very nicely (and I think recently) fitted out, well equipped and very clean. Having a washer and dryer is invaluable for a family on the road. There are great views over the Bay from the bedrooms. A bit of noise can carry through from the apartment above, but that's part and parcel of living in an historic neighbourhood.

The location is perfect for those wanting to get to know San Francisco. We found that we could walk to nearly everywhere we wanted to go in no more than 20 minutes, including Fishermans Wharf, the ferry terminal, the CBD and Union Square. In fact we bought Muni passports but barely used them, choosing to walk instead. The apartment is on a pretty steep hill, but we saw that as part of the charm. Our kids had no problem navigating it, even after a long day. There is also a great range of restaurants a short walk away. Richard, the owner, was very helpful and attentive, which made us feel at home. I would happily recommend this apartment to anyone in a similar situation and would stay here again if the opportunity arose.

EXCELLENT!!!!

Guest Claudia E.

Date of stay 09/20/12 Review Submitted 09/28/12

We stayed at the apartment for 4 nights. There were 4 adults and it was very comfortable. It was a great place with beautiful views, was very clean and you could tell it was well maintained. The apartment is walking distance to many of the SF sites (Chinatown, Ferry Building, Pier 33, Downtown/Financial District, etc.). Richard, the owner was very accommodating. His suggestions and tips were much appreciated. We would definitely stay at this condo again and would recommend to family and friends who are looking for a great downtown San Francisco apartment. Thank you for making us feel so welcome.

What a great location! Within walking distance of major SF attractions. The owner was very nice and easy to work with. He greeted us shortly after arrival and offered advice on places to go and things to see....nice personal touch. The house was just right for our family of 4. Nicely furnished, very clean, new/upscale appliances and the most comfortable bed I have ever slept in.

Why North Beach:

My father bought this property for its proximity to Chinatown, Downtown, the Financial District, the Embarcadero, North Beach and Russian Hill. He worked on ships and on the waterfront his whole life and never needed a car when he lived here. I do not suggest travelers attempt to drive or rent a car when staying in san Francisco. When I stay here, I walk or take taxis. While cab fares are not as inexpensive as in Buenos Aires or Rio De Janeiro, they are competitive with other major cities.

The Unique Benefits at this Apartment:

This one-of-a-kind property is located near Coit Tower and the Barbary Coast Trail. You can enjoy the view with your significant other The neighborhood offers everything in walking distance... from small convenience stores and cafe's to Michelin two star restaurants like Coi. In the morning, you can easily stroll to the Cafe Trieste or Blue Bottle Cafe at the Ferry Building to pickup a coffee. If you are patient, you can brave the breakfast line at Mama's, across from the park. You can spend the rest of the morning exploring all the landmarks of the neighborhood and boutiques of Grant Avenue. If need be, recharge with a midday slice of the Coit Tower Special at North Beach Pizza for lunch or a simple gelato in Washington Square Park. In the summer, bring a swimsuit and sunbathe with the other beautiful people. For dinner, you can walk down to Gerald Hirigoyen's Piperade for excellent Basque cuisine. If you still have room, follow that up with a handmade soufflé from Cafe Jacqueline. Still awake? You can adventure out to world class bars and nightclubs and stumble back whenever you like. San Francisco offers everything for the night owl... you just need to know where to look.
